

LIKE IT OR NOT - SPEAKING AND LISTENING ACTIVITIES TEACHER'S NOTES

level - A1+/B1

How to use the set

The aim of these activities is to practice speaking and asking questions as well as listening about likes and dislikes. The students get a lot of activities that support talking about what they like or don't like. All the activities are organized in such a way so that ss could work in pairs or create individual presentations on the topic. The set also contains a lot of practice on asking questions to support one of the most problematic aspects for students.

ACTIVITIES

FIRST TALK - This activity is a simple warm-up for students to review both different activities as well as different items. Ss need to produce basic sentences: I like... / I don't like ...'

ASK YOUR FRIEND - This is a pair work activity in which ss need to find out what their friend likes by asking basic questions and sorting the items. Tell ss to pick from 7-10 items and ask ss to place them next to their character. Then tell them to ask their friends: "Do you like...?" to find out what the other person picked.

Extension - At the end of the activity, ask ss to present the choices of their friend to the class or write them down in correct sentences.

LISTEN AND PICK - listening comprehension - tell ss to listen to the people and sort the items into correct categories.

Extension - ask ss to present the correct answers or write them down.

READ AND PICK - reading comprehension - ss need to read about people's likes and dislikes and sort the images into the correct categories.

WHAT DOES YOUR FRIEND LIKE? - this activity helps ss both ask questions and create longer oral presentations about their likes and dislikes, however, this time their answers are limited. One ss picks board 1 and by clicking the button picks what he/she likes. The other ss picks board 2 and needs to ask what their friend likes or doesn't like. Based on the answers this ss must find the same images. Then change the roles.

Extension - when they have finished, the ss can present back to others what they found out or write everything down.
